Full figured consignment shop located in the Short North sets grand opening. Because big girls are beautiful ... Go Figure!

COLUMBUS, OH — April 17, 2009 — Go Figure Consignment, LLC sets official grand opening for upcoming Short North Gallery Hop, Saturday, May 2, 2009. “Go Figure, is a full figured consignment shop specializing in sizes 12 and up, for the bigger, beautiful(er) women like me,” says Sherri Brunner, owner. “I’ve been feeling for a long time that bigger girls have not been offered the same shopping benefits as our smaller sisters in the current marketplace, especially in the Short North.”

Go Figure has quietly been open during the month of April, building inventory of seasonal, stylish, new and gently used full figured/plus sized clothing and accessories. Items change daily at the store, including brand name and one-of-a-kind fashions and jewelry created by local designers. “I carry all sizes and shapes of full figured/plus sized clothing and accessories, including upscale (never worn or gently used) dresses, suits, blazers, casual clothing, dress slacks, stylish tops, jeans, active wear, swimsuits, sleepwear, scarves, jewelry, hats, handbags, shoes and other accessories,” says Sherri. “I’m now accepting summer fashions, and I’ve had several customer requests for pant suites, summer dresses and designer handbags.” Go Figure also offers personalized shopping assistance, where clients can provide their Wish List and they are contacted if those items arrive.

Recycle your (full figured/plus sized) wardrobe. “I consider Go Figure to be an open closet for my clients. An opportunity for women to stop in, buy beautiful clothes, wear them, bring them back, and sell them again for someone else to enjoy,” says Sherri. “Items are consigned for 30 days to ensure fresh inventory and the sales are split 50/50, giving everyone an opportunity to make and save some money. The word is getting out and I’ve had great response so far. I never knew (recycling) could be so much fun!”
